

Ethical presentation for Max Worthington in the “Killer Robot” scenario

Presented by Yifei Pei from Group 2

What Max Worthington did as Security Officer

- * His position: Chief Security Officer for Silicon Techtronics
- * His responsibility: Keep the Corporation safe (Watch both outside and inside)
- * Announced resignation and held a news conference
- * Showed a large amount of evidences (e-mails) to reveal that the tests were faked under the pressure of managers
- * What he did not do: acted something before the robot was released

What he did as Martha

- * Told the press that there was an enormous amount of friction between Ray Johnson and Sam Reynolds
- * 20 new programmers were employed but did nothing effective to the project because of Sam
- * Ray's "Ivory Snow" theory to encourage employees not focus on perfection too much (but may mislead them to cut corners)
- * Sam did not like any program developing processe that he was not familiar with

Ethical issues

- * Knew problems occurring but did not announce it before incident happened
- * Made all the private and confidential materials public
- * He sneaked at the very beginning and even after the incident happened, just said something anonymously
- * It seemed that all he stated were against Sam and Ray
- * He is morale but may not be ethical enough

Right things

- * Resignation is rightful for him because he did not complete his work as expected
- * He revealed key materials that help the public to understand the whole incident

Thanks
